

Having trouble viewing this email? Use this link to open it in your browser

The Transit Friendly Planning Newsletter

The Week in TOD News July 20-26, 2024

How to lower NJ rent prices • Riverside's Watch Case Building redevelopment
• Blueprint San Diego • Busting congestion pricing myths • Learning from Tokyo and Toronto

Article of the Week

[It Really Is Possible to Lower
New Jersey's Rent Prices.
Seriously. Here's How](#)

RIVERSIDE—A Burlington County Town's Long-Vacant Landmark Could Become Apartments if Rooftop Antennas Don't Derail Plans

click for more NJ TOD News

Transit & Equity News

CALIFORNIA—More Apartments, Less Segregation, Fewer Cars: San Diego OKs Sweeping Changes to Growth Blueprint

click for more Transit & Equity News

Regional & National TOD News

NEW YORK—Op-Ed | Busting 6 Congestion Pricing Myths

click for more Regional & National News

International TOD News

What Cities Can Learn From How Tokyo and Toronto Approach Transit-Oriented Development

click for more International News

Video of the Week

Towards Transit-Oriented Affordable Housing

In this 2019 video, Metro Vancouver showcases its evolution into a transit-oriented region, marked by record-high transit ridership, especially among renters. Despite this progress, the region faces a significant challenge: a projected shortfall of 20,000 affordable rental units for lower-income residents over the next decade. The discussion delves into the complexities of high land prices and construction costs, the difficulties nonprofits face in accessing capital, and the critical need for affordable housing near transit hubs. The video highlights a three-year study and innovative solutions like the Transit-Oriented Affordable Housing (TOAH) fund and outlines potential pathways to creating inclusive and equitable transit-oriented communities.

To learn more about affordable housing and equitable TOD, visit our Online Opportunities for TOD Learning resource page.

Want to see our past videos of the week? Click here!

In case you missed it!

Staying Put: Innovative Approaches to Prevent Displacement in New Jersey

At its core, gentrification is about displacing lower-income individuals from their communities. Learn how to limit this displacement while improving transit-friendly places.

ALSO CHECK OUT

The NJTOD Event Calendar

Opportunities for Online Learning

Topics include Complete Streets, Design Justice, eTOD, Open and Shared Streets, and Parking.

Copyright © 2024 NJTOD / Voorhees Transportation Center, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.

