

Overall, SUVs made up 47 percent of sales, and when “light trucks” are added, 72 percent. That figure has been growing; IHS Markit, a market research firm, projects it will reach 78 percent by 2025. That is, four in five cars sold in America will be either rugged four-wheel drive SUVs or pickup trucks. If you come from abroad and spend time in any American city, you will be